

One of your colleagues has filed an Issue Resolution regarding the Primary Care late patient arrival policy and forced overtime.

Based on preliminary responses to the survey, the IR may be canceled because it seems that the policy is not being enforced widely. Bringing this issue to light might create more of a problem than it solves. The IR meeting has been put on hold pending more responses. It would be helpful to have information on how this policy has affected your work-life balance and created forced overtime.
